

Holiday Countdown Vendor & Craft Fair- Saturday, November 19th 2022

About us: Local Ladies Social Network, Inc. is a privately owned 9-year-old professional event coordinating company. The company host events weekly in many cities for the past 6 years here in Florida. We have many events including fairs, festivals, markets and social events throughout the year to help boost the local economy. Most events are free public admission and are family friendly. We strive to provide successful events with excellent opportunities for local businesses to associate themselves with. We believe by purchasing from local vendors & small businesses it keeps your money in circulation within the local community, creating & maintaining local jobs and sustainability. When supporting your local small businesses, not only are you supporting someone's dream but you're supporting local families! Our community events support our local small businesses, residents and charities as well as provide fun for all!

This event will support our local economy. We will have small business vendors, crafters, artists & artisans as well as a couple food trucks. The event will take place 10am-3pm. Set up for vendors is 8am-10am. Break down is 3pm-4pm. We will have 10x10 pop up tents only. No alcohol and we don't need to block off roads or anything. We hold these events around SWFL to help boost the local economy. We have had many requests by our followers to come to Venice so we are.
