Hi Lori-

I apologize for the delay in getting you this info...

If you could include this link with our mission statement below:

This video provides supporting data for our presentation on the 25th.

Gulf Coast Environmental Conservation and Exploration (GCECE) is a non-profit organization that collaborates to promote the conservation and exploration of the natural wonders found along the Gulf Coast of Florida. We realize that individuals' first need to explore nature to truly appreciate it and ultimately foster the desire to protect our natural treasures. With this in mind, we have collaborated with private and public organizations to educate visitors about the many opportunities there are to explore these environmental treasures with the intention to spark conservation.

Thank you Lori

Paula Biltmore, MEd.
