Why are you interested in serving on a board or commission?

Over the past 17 years, I have been very active on behalf of my residential community working with our commercial and industrial neighbors as well as other residential developments in our area with the goal that Venice remains to be a great place to live. During this time, I have had the opportunity to interact with several of the City's departments and staff as well as with the Planning Commission and City Council members. As a result of my considerable participation in other COV Groups and strong citizen involvement in the latest Comprehensive Plan and Land Development Regulation rewrites, I believe I have the necessary background and initiative to make a positive contribution to our City as a Planning Commissioner. I presently serve as a Planning Commissioner.

Why are you interested in serving on a board or commission?

City planning - in the midst of a county - is a complex environment, especially when both entities are growing; continuity of knowledge, understanding, and forward thinking is required. I've spent the last three years on the commission, expanding my knowledge and appreciation of the processes and procedures, the foundation of the Comp Plan and LDRs. Both documents require compliance to the 'letter of the law'; in addition, a commissioner must also understand the spirit in which the Comp Plan and LDRs were written, allowing consideration for the applications and needs of our residents and business owners. I've enjoyed serving these last three years, and ask to be reappointed to ensure our growing areas continue to embrace the essence of Venice, while new opportunities develop within our city limits.

Honorable Mayor Nick Pachota

Honorable Council Members: Kevin Engelke, Joan Farrell, Rachel Frank, Rick Howard, Ron Smith

I respectfully submit my resume and application for a second term on the City of Venice Planning Commission. My husband and I discovered Venice in 2000 and quickly purchased property knowing we would make Venice our permanent home after retirement. Upon my first retirement in 2008, we moved full time to Venice, and have been active and engaged in our community since.

Given my 30 years in business at GE Aerospace, I was well suited and positioned to serve as an officer and president of my community, Waterford, and I currently serve as its Vice President. To expand my perspective, I began attending City of Venice council meetings and soon made contacts with other local community leaders. Those connections eventually led to founding the Central Venice Coalition of Homeowner and Condo Associations (CVC), leveraging the approach by Venice Island Condo Coalition and Friends of Pinebrook Park.

Much like the planning commission, the charter of the CVC is focused on the viability and relevancy of current and future developments in Venice. To remain relevant, the CVC felt it was imperative to collectively participate in planning and development so that challenges affecting properties throughout the city can be mitigated to the best of our ability, in a positive collaborative manner, and following the law.

Given my former liaison roles between Waterford and City of Venice and Board of County Commissioners, my leadership in CVC, business experience in problem solving / decision making, plus my time on the planning commission, I am well suited to continue as a member of the Venice Planning Commission and ask for your consideration.

Respectfully,

Pam Schierberg
